

African Culture

The stories we hear as children help us to understand the world. Storytelling is a great way to learn about our family, our country and our history.

In African countries, storytelling is important because it they are used to tell old stories to children, to teach important lessons and to entertain children.

There are many different stories that are told in African countries, which have been passed down from generation to generation. We call these folk tales.

African Culture

The Greedy Zebra

Listen to the African folk tale of the Greedy Zebra.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qDIAf4mGttI&t=8s>

